President Morgan,
University of Tenn.,
Knoxville, Tenn.

Dear Sir:

It has been a long time since I was a student of the old East Tenn. University but I have rejoiced in all the prgress that has been made from that day to this. I am glad to drop you this line to tell you that I sympathize with you in your fight. While I do not know half that is involved in the controversy I believe that you are right and to the extent of my ability you may depend upon anything that I can do to help you. I have been working here in the educational field for thirty years and I have learned a few things about students and professors too. My motto has been under such conditons, "Have faith in God and stand by your guns." At least that is the way I work. I congratulate you in advance on the final triumph of righteousness in your heart and hands.

Faithfully your friend,

Ashley S. Johnson

ASJ/AB.

President.

Johnson Bible College Declarations

First—We stand for the Old Jerusalem Gospel without supplement, addition, or amendment.

Second—We stand for the Church as it was established at Pentacost, Samaria and all through the ages of the Apostles.

Third—We stand for the Apostolic answer to the great question, "What must I do to be saved?" Put all the emphasis you can on Apostolic.

Fourth—We stand for the proclamation of the great fundamental principle that the conditions of salvation, church membership, and Christian Union are one and the same thing.

Fifth—We stand for an opportunity to every poor young man who is willing to work to get an education to enable him to proclaim these great fundamentals to the end of the earth.

Money, or bonds, solicited for our Permanent Fund to support the Professors or for general expenses.
