BEFORE THE TENNESSEE CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION

IN THE MATTER OF:

Board of Probation and Parole, Petitioner,

Vs.

Garen Blanchard, Grievant.

DOCKET NO: 26.41-110737J

INITIAL ORDER

This matter was heard on November 10, 2011, in Nashville, Tennessee before Steve R. Darnell, Administrative Law Judge, assigned by the Secretary of State, Administrative Procedures Division, and sitting for the Tennessee Civil Service Commission. Attorney Karen D. Tolbert represented the Board of Probation and Parole (hereinafter the “Board”), and Grievant was represented by attorney Phillip Davidson. The transcript of the hearing was filed December 28, 2011, and the record closed on February 10, 2012, when Grievant submitted proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law via e-mail.

ISSUE FOR DETERMINATION

Did the Board properly suspend Grievant for 30 days without pay for failing to perform his job duties?

SUMMARY OF DETERMINATION

The Board has shown, by a preponderance of the evidence, that Grievant failed to perform his job duties in several areas. Given the severity, longevity, and pervasiveness of Grievant’s deficiencies, a 30 day suspension was appropriate discipline. This determination is based upon the following Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law.

FINDINGS OF FACT

1. Grievant is employed as a Probation and Parole Officer 2 (PPO) by the Board. At relevant times, Grievant's caseload was above what is recommended by the Board, but consistent with his peers' caseloads.

2. The duties of a PPO include monitoring parolees and probationers by documenting any direct or collateral contact with the offender into the Tennessee Offender Management Information System (TOMIS). The PPO is also to investigate violations of supervision and notify the court or Board through a written violation report. The PPO is also responsible for monitoring offenders' payment of victim restitution and other fees.

3. To ensure public safety, the PPO must supervise offenders according to the following Board policies:

Board Policy #704.01, Standards of Offender Supervision, instructs the PPO how to supervise offenders assigned to their caseload.

Board Policy #704.06, Scheduling Offender Reporting, requires the PPO to schedule interviews with the offender and establish methods of reporting.

Board Policy #705.11, Offender Fees, requires the PPO to monitor the various fees an offender must pay, including supervision fees and restitution. Under this policy, the PPO monitors an offender's payment of fees by ensuring the offender completes a money order in the PPO's presence. The offender then makes a copy of the money order which the PPO places in offender's file. The PPO observes the offender place the money order in an envelope and then the offender deposits it into a lockbox for mailing.

Board Policy #705.12, Offender Restitution, obligates the PPO to monitor the offender's payment of court ordered restitution. If an offender does not pay restitution, the offender has violated the probation order and can be incarcerated.

4. The Board has adopted specific policies concerning offenders' files as follows:

Board Policy #706.01, Content of Offender Case Files, deems an offender's electronic TOMIS file to be the offender's official file, but also directs the PPO to maintain a hardcopy file bearing the offender's name and other identifying information. The hard copy file is necessary, in addition to TOMIS, because there are some documents in it that cannot be kept in TOMIS. The PPO is to file copies of all documents relating to an offender in the offender's hardcopy file and TOMIS file. If a court order is entered regarding an offender, the PPO should place a copy in the offender's file.

Board Policy #706.03, Offender Contact Notes, and Policy #706.04, Offender TOMIS Transactions, establishes the PPO's obligation to enter information concerning offenders into TOMIS.

Board Policy #706.05, Offender Reporting and Documentation, requires the PPO to periodically collect a complete and signed written report from each offender and to maintain it in the offender's files. This report includes the offender's current address.

Board Policy #707.20, Probation Violations, governs the process for writing violation reports if an offender does not comply with the conditions of supervision.

Board Policy #707.21, Probation Violation Warrants and Reports, includes additional information about the procedure to be followed in preparing probation violation reports and warrants. The PPO is to investigate the circumstances regarding a potential violation. In probation cases, the District Attorney decides whether a warrant is issued, and if so, the PPO prepares the warrant. In cases of parolees, the PPO forwards the offender's violation report to the Board. If a PPO files a violation report, a warrant can be issued for the offender.

5. Grievant transferred to another position with the Board and his caseload was assigned to another PPO. During this change, several irregularities were discovered with Grievant's cases. These discoveries led to the disciplinary action which is the subject of this case.

6. Grievant failed to ensure an order extending probation for an offender for six additional months was actually entered by the court. Grievant was responsible for securing this order and placing a copy in the offender's file. Grievant's contact notes with this offender indicated probation had been extended for six month. It appears the court never entered an order extending the probation, and Grievant did not confirm such an order existed.

7. Grievant failed to file a box of paperwork concerning offenders on his caseload that extended back for one year.

8. Grievant failed to enter contact notes during March 2010 for 12 offenders.

9. Grievant failed to post current addresses in TOMIS for 16 or 17 offenders in his caseload.

10. Grievant failed to enter contact notes documenting a violation report or warrant had been completed on 10 offenders.

11. Grievant failed to keep a violation report in the offender's file for some of the same 10 offenders even through a warrant had been issued.

12. Grievant failed to enter a closing summary for three offenders.

13. Grievant left money orders in two offenders' files. The PPO is not to handle restitutions payments and is to ensure the offender immediately mails the payment to the victim.

14. Grievant failed to keep an offender's file in the proper location so it could be located by other agency staff when needed.

15. Grievant failed to file an amended warrant when an offender in absconder status was arrested on new charges.
16. Grievant failed to request backdated fee exemptions and new fee exemptions for six offenders who were in arrears. Grievant also attempted to transfer a file to another county when the file was out of compliance because of a substantial fee arrearage.
17. Restitution money orders from an offender were sent to a victim, Shoe Show, after their expiration. Shoe Show received six money orders, four of which were over one year old and could only be redeemed for part of their full value. The remaining two money orders had been altered and could not be negotiated. These two had been made out to the Board of Probation and Parole, marked through, then made payable to Shoe Show.
18. When an offender moves to another county, the PPO is to initiate an offender transfer. One offender on Grievant's caseload resided outside of Davidson County, but the file had not been transferred to the offender's county of residence.
19. Grievant left a restitution money order on the new PPO's desk. The new PPO copied and mailed it to the victim.
20. One offender's file assigned to Grievant could never be located by Board staff and a replacement file had to be created.
21. Grievant had a prior oral written warning with a written follow-up for low officer compliance scores.
22. Grievant's testimony concerning his handling of the restitution money orders was not credible.
23. Grievant violated numerous policies of the Board and was properly subjected to disciplinary action.

24. A 30 day suspension without pay was the proper disciplinary action for Grievant's conduct.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

1. In a fifth step level hearing, an administrative law judge presides to take proof and render an initial order which is subject to review by the Civil Service Commission. T.C.A. §4-5-301.

2. It is a de novo proceeding, and no presumption of correctness attaches to the action of the agency. Big Fork Mining Co. v. Tennessee Water Quality Control Board, 620 S.W. 2d 515, at 521 (Tenn. App. 1981).

3. The burden of proof rests with the Board and the Board must prove by a preponderance of the evidence that: 1) the Grievant acted or failed to act as the Board alleges; 2) the Grievant's action constitutes a disciplinary offense; and 3) the recommended discipline is appropriate for Grievant's offenses. Id. at 520. Some instances of misconduct require an elevated level of discipline, even if the employee has no history of prior disciplinary action. Berning v. State, 996 S.W.2d 828, 830 (Tenn. App. 1999).

4. The Board bears the burden of proof in this case. The standard of proof is a preponderance of the evidence. TN. Department of State, Administrative Procedures Division, Rule 1360-4-1-.02(3)(7).

5. Preponderance of the evidence simply means "the greater weight of the evidence or that, according to the evidence, the conclusion sought by the party with the burden of proof is the more probable conclusion." Id.

6. PURPOSE (Rule 1120-10-.01)

To establish standards for the application of disciplinary procedures which will assure fairness and uniformity among agencies and institutions subject to the provisions of these rules.

7. POLICY (Rule 1120-10-.02)

A career employee may be warned, suspended, demoted or dismissed by his appointing authority whenever just or legal cause exists. The degree and kind of action is at the discretion of the appointing authority, but must be in compliance with the intent of the provisions of this rule and the Act. An executive service employee serves at the pleasure of the appointing authority.

8. MINIMUM DUE PROCESS (Rule 1120-10-.03)

(1) Career employees have a "property right" to a position in the classification in which they currently hold career status. Therefore, no suspension, demotion, dismissal or any other action which deprives a regular (career) employee of his "property right" will become effective until minimum due process is provided as outlined below.

(2) Minimum due process consists of the following:

(a) The employee shall be notified of the charges against him. Such notification shall detail times, places, and other pertinent facts concerning the charges and should be in writing.

(b) The notification will provide for the employee to have a predecision discussion with an appropriate manager and will state the mechanism through which such a discussion may be arranged. The employee should be given a reasonable period of time to prepare to answer charges and present information which might influence the manager's decision.

(c) The manager conducting such discussions must be an appointing authority or manager who has direct access to an appointing authority for this purpose.

(d) The meeting outlined above shall be for the purpose of allowing the employee to present information to the manager regarding the disciplinary action under consideration.

(e) The discussion shall be informal. The employees shall have the right to present written statements of witnesses or any other information with regard to the charges. Attendance and participation by persons other than the manager and the employee shall be at the discretion of the manager.

(f) If the employee declines the opportunity to have the discussion or present information, the provisions of this section are deemed to have been met.

(3) The commission shall determine as a preliminary matter to the merits of a grievance, a Grievant's allegation that he or she was denied minimum due process.

9. EXCEPTION TO MINIMUM DUE PROCESS (Rule 1120-10-.04)

When an employee is acting in a dangerous or otherwise threatening manner and must be removed from the workplace immediately, it is not necessary to provide "minimum due process" prior to removal. Minimum due process must be provided after removal as soon as practicable. The employee, in this case, may be placed on leave or on immediate suspension without pay.

10. CAUSES FOR DISCIPLINARY ACTION (Rule 1120-10-.05)

Causes for disciplinary action fall into two categories.

(1) Causes relating to performance of duties.

(2) Causes relating to conduct which may affect an employee's ability to successfully fulfill the requirements of the job.

11. EXAMPLES OF DISCIPLINARY OFFENSES (Rule 1120-10-.06)

The following causes are examples of those considered for disciplinary action and should not be considered the only causes of action.

- (1) Inefficiency or incompetency in the performance of duties.
- (2) Negligence in the performance of duties.
- (3) Careless, negligent or improper use of State property or equipment.
- (4) Failure to maintain satisfactory and harmonious working relationships with the public and fellow employees.
- (5) Habitual improper use of sick leave privileges.
- (6) Habitual pattern of failure to report for duty at the assigned time and place.
- (7) Failure to obtain or maintain a current license or certificate or other qualification required by law or rule as a condition of continued employment.
- (8) Gross misconduct or conduct unbecoming an employee in the State service.
- (9) Conviction of a felony.
- (10) Willful abuse or misappropriation of State funds, property or equipment.
- (11) Falsification of an official document relating to or affecting employment.
- (12) Participation in any action that would in any way seriously disrupt or disturb the normal operation of the agency, institution, department or any other segment of the State service or that would interfere with the ability of management to manage.
- (13) Trespassing on the property of any State officer or employee for the purpose of harassment.
- (14) Damage or destruction of State property.
- (15) Acts that would endanger the lives and property of others.
- (16) Possession of unauthorized firearms, lethal weapons, alcohol or illegal drugs on the job.
- (17) Brutality in the performance of duties.
- (18) Refusal to accept a reasonable and proper assignment from an authorized supervisor (insubordination).
- (19) Reporting to work under the influence of alcohol or illegal drugs, or partaking of such on the job.
- (20) Sleeping or failure to remain alert during duty hours.
- (21) Betrayal of confidential information.
- (22) Garnishment of wages for more than one indebtedness.
- (23) Political activity prohibited by T.C.A. Title 2, Chapter 19 (The Little Hatch Act)
- (24) For the good of the service as outlined in T.C.A. §8-30-326. (emphasis added)

12. PROGRESSIVE DISCIPLINARY ACTION (Rule 1120-10-.07)

- (1) The supervisor is responsible for maintaining the proper performance level, conduct and discipline of the employees under his supervision. When corrective action is necessary, the supervisor must administer disciplinary action beginning at the appropriate step as described.
- (2) Oral Warning. The supervisor will meet privately with the employee to:
 - (a) Review with the employee exactly what is expected on the job and why.
 - (b) Explain to the employee how he has not met requirements and why present conduct or performance is unacceptable.
 - (c) Allow the employee to give reasons for his actions or failure.
 - (d) Make suggestions for correction.
 - (e) Record the date of the discussion and other necessary information for future reference.
 - (f) Written follow-up to the discussion may be forwarded to the employee but is not required. Written follow-up to an oral warning should not be construed as a written warning as described below and will not become part of the employee's official personnel file.

- (3) Written Warning. The supervisor will meet with the employee and:
- (a) Review the points covered in the oral warning, if an oral warning(s) was administered. The employee will be told that a significant change in his present conduct or performance must be made.
 - (b) Tell the employee he will receive a letter covering the significant points of the discussion to include:
 - 1. What has been expected and how these expectations have not been met.
 - 2. Suggestions for improvement.
 - 3. Indication that failure to improve will lead to further disciplinary action.
 - (c) Review with the organizational unit head the contents of the letter prior to its delivery to the employee by the supervisor.
 - (d) A copy of the written warning may be placed in the employee's official personnel file in the agency personnel office at the discretion of the appointing authority. Any written warning which has been issued to an employee shall be automatically expunged from the employee's personnel file after a period of two (2) years from the date of the letter; provided, that the employee has had no further disciplinary actions with respect to the same area of performance, conduct, and discipline.
- (4) Suspension Without Pay.
- (a) After minimum due process is provided, a suspension without pay may be issued by the appointing authority for one (1) to thirty (30) days. No employee may be suspended without pay for disciplinary purposes for more than thirty (30) days in any consecutive twelve (12) month period. Suspensions with or without pay of more than thirty (30) days may be issued pending the outcome of an investigation or legal action with approval of the Commissioner.
 - (b) Before issuance, a written notice of the suspension without pay will be prepared. The notice will contain an account of the circumstances which led to the decision to issue the suspension, the beginning and ending dates of the suspension and information to the employee concerning his rights of appeal as outlined in Chapter 1120-11 of these rules. A copy of the notice will be placed in the employee's official personnel file and a copy will be sent to the Department.
- (5) Dismissal.
- (a) After minimum due process is provided, an employee may be dismissed by the appointing authority from his position for unacceptable conduct or performance of duties.
 - (b) Before an employee is dismissed, a written notification detailing the circumstances leading to the decision to dismiss will be prepared. The notice will indicate the effective date and inform the employee of his rights to appeal as outlined in Chapter 1120-11 of these rules. A copy of the notice will be placed in the employee's official personnel file and a copy will be sent to the Department.
 - (c) Before an employee can be dismissed, he must be given ten (10) calendar days paid notice. During the notice period an employee will not be required to report for duty. The employee's accumulated annual leave balance may be used during this notice period only if dismissal was for gross misconduct.
- (6) Transfer or Demotion. If it is determined by the appointing authority that an employee's ability to satisfactorily perform his duties is beyond the capabilities of the employee or the employee has been compromised by notorious conduct to the extent that he is ineffective in his position, the employee may be demoted or transferred to a position that is more appropriate after minimum due process has been provided.

17. GRIEVANCE/PROCEDURES (Rule 1120-11-.05)

The appropriate entrance step is determined by the grievant's relative level in the organization. Procedures shall not be more than five (5) steps to finality as follows:

- (4) The intent of this policy is to legally, efficiently, and fairly resolve bona fide complaints, and grievances. The initiation of a grievance should not be considered as a negative reflection against an employee, supervisor, or agency management, but should be considered as an effort to communicate and seek resolution of work related problems.
- (5) Management should consider grievances objectively, fairly, and expeditiously while maintaining a helpful, cordial, and professional attitude throughout the process of redress.

ANALYSIS

Supervision of offenders by the Board is a matter of public safety. The Board serves its function by delegating to the PPO the obligation of supervising offenders in their caseload. The PPO in turn, monitors the offender and documents the offender's progress in the offender's file. The Board has adopted very specific polices to ensure the PPO performs his job correctly. The Board has trained Grievant on its policies, and Grievant acknowledges he is familiar with the Board's policies.

Documentation is crucial to ensure the Board and court system are aware of the offender's status and also to protect the offender from unjust incarceration. It also serves to ensure that victims are accurately compensated for their losses. The system is also used by other agencies such as the Department of Correction and law enforcement agencies. Supervision of the offender without proper documentation by the PPO would be worthless. In many professions "paperwork," as it is commonly referred to, is ancillary to the main focus. However, in Grievant's job as a PPO this "paperwork" is the main focus. It goes to the heart of what a PPO does. Grievant does not seem to appreciate the importance of maintaining proper records of his activities. At the hearing, it was clear Grievant is not contrite about his poor job performance.

The record demonstrates that Grievant was either unable to perform his job as a PPO or unwilling to do so. Further, the record shows Grievant's deficiencies were not isolated, but included many if not all areas of his responsibility. It is equally clear that this pattern of neglect existed for a lengthy period of time. Given the severity of Grievant's infractions, the length of time they persisted, and how pervasive they were, the Board properly ignored lower levels of discipline. Under these circumstances, Grievant was properly suspended for 30 days without pay.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED the Board of Probation and Parole's decision to suspend Grievant without pay for 30 days is UPHELD.
