Visitors slip through the treeline and approach the water via a monumental stair that simultaneously stands as a pause in the public park experience. The sound of water flowing from the fountain above ensues a restriction of his sight. A flow from plaza to park level in a direct and concentrated manner.

1_WATERFRONT

Approaching the site from within the waterfront park, visitors discover a quiet form jutting from the landscape. Wrapped by a ring of trees, poplars a gentle hillside, creating a refuge from the surrounding city. Visitors run across a wooden boardwalk, ready to take a plunge into the cool waters.

2_GROTTO

Life happens in the shadow of FDR. Inhabiting the outer edge of this piece of urban infrastructure, a sense of place is created.

3_BARGE

Tethered to the edge of Manhattan, the barge serves as an escape from the city. Here, hundreds flee the heat and congestion for the water. This transformative experience is one to be savored--one to be cherished.

4_NICHE

The internal pool spaces terrace oak with an outdoor niche for sunbathers to leave the coolness of the water behind, but still maintain a sense of isolation from their surrounding context. The wooden slats that enclose the wall create a sense of enclosure, restricting views, and continuing to foster a space for the individual.
