Thank you for adding your comments to the minutes of the Commission's meeting with Dean Armistead and Assistant Dean Grau. Vice Chancellor Ebersole and I read the minutes with interest and were pleased to note in your cover memorandum that the suggested meeting between the administrative staff of the College of Veterinary Medicine and the four local black veterinarians has already been held. In addition, I should tell you that Dean Armistead mentioned the College's interest in recruiting minority students during my recent luncheon meeting with department heads in the Colleges of Agriculture and Veterinary Medicine.

If you and the persons mentioned in your memorandum wish to discuss the problem from a University-wide perspective, I am certain that Vice President Prados would be glad to meet with you.
