Dear Betty:

Except for a few factual errors, the minutes of our meeting with the Commission for Blacks on January 11 were, on the whole, a faithful representation of what transpired. Thank you.

The only significant error was in naming the schools with which the State of Tennessee has had agreements for veterinary medical education (page 4). These were Auburn University (not Albany), Tuskegee Institute, and Ohio State University (not Georgia).

Assistant Dean Grau, Associate Dean Reed, and I had a meeting on January 24 with Knoxville's 4 black veterinary practitioners. These veterinarians seem interested in the College's recruitment problems and expressed a willingness to help. A second meeting has been scheduled for February 16, at which time we hope to agree on sustained, collaborative efforts to improve the College's record in minority recruitment.

Best wishes,

W. W. Armistead
Dean
