WANTED!

Faculty Nominations for Scholar of the Week

The Scholar of the Week is a service of the UTK Office of Research. Through this award we recognize the recent important research, scholarship, and creative accomplishment of our faculty members. Recognition by peers as an independent, original, and substantive researcher includes:

- ❖ Publication of original research in rigorously refereed major journals
- ❖ A major exhibit or performance at a national or international venue
- ❖ A record of national grant or fellowship support awarded through peer-review
- ❖ National or international prizes or awards
- ❖ Invitation to hold endowed lectureships
- ❖ Invited lectures, particularly at major scholarly meetings

Faculty members may be nominated only by deans, department heads, and other faculty members. Nominations should include a short paragraph that includes the department and rank of the scholar, states his or her specific field of work within the discipline, and describes the scholar's most recent noteworthy accomplishment. The paragraph may also list significant previous scholarly awards and memberships.

Please send your nominations to Alan Rutenberg at arutenberg@utk.edu and provide a photograph or a link to a photograph. Descriptions should be in simple, nontechnical language for a general audience, but when relevant they should also include citations for the benefit of other scholars.
