Mr. Henry Morgan,
Pres. U. T., Knoxville.

Dear Sir:— Are you interested at all in what the liberal minded people of Tennessee think of your intolerant attitude toward University Professors who have minds of their own? Do you want a bunch of "rubber stamps" only? It certainly looks very much that way.

As an humble citizen and tax-payer, I thought it disgraceful enough that the head of a great University should pick out, ^{for Commencement} a professional politician who was egotistical enough to essay his "views" on Evolution—a scientific subject upon which he was in no sense qualified to speak—but now the crowning shame comes in the revelation that the professors who are too independent and high-minded to bow down and applaud your unjust and autocratic treatment of Prof. Sprouls are to be weeded out in bunches.

Your conduct is generally condemned in this section of the State.

Respt.

W. S. McClain.
