THE UNIVERSITY of TENNESSEE
Municipal Technical Advisory Service

In cooperation with the Tennessee Municipal League
WARNING

Users of this publication are cautioned that much judgment is involved in determining which Public Acts to summarize and how to summarize them. Before taking action or giving advice based upon any Public Act summarized here, one should consult the act itself and not rely on the summary.
The Municipal Technical Advisory Service (MTAS) was created in 1949 by the state legislature to enhance the quality of government in Tennessee municipalities. An agency of the University of Tennessee Institute for Public Service, MTAS works in cooperation with the Tennessee Municipal League and affiliated organizations to assist municipal officials.

By sharing information, responding to client requests, and anticipating the ever-changing municipal government environment, MTAS promotes better local government and helps cities develop and sustain effective management and leadership.

MTAS offers assistance in areas such as accounting and finance, administration and personnel, fire, public works, law, ordinance codification, and wastewater management. MTAS houses a comprehensive library and publishes scores of documents annually.

MTAS provides one copy of our publications free of charge to each Tennessee municipality, county and department of state and federal government. There is a $10 charge for additional copies of “Tennessee Public Acts 2008.”

Photocopying of this publication in small quantities for educational purposes is encouraged. For permission to copy and distribute large quantities, please contact the MTAS Knoxville office at (865) 974-0411.

If, however, the end of the 60-day period falls on a holiday or on the day of an unexpected event that closes municipal or county government offices, the plat must be approved or disapproved at the next regularly scheduled meeting of the planning commission.

Also requires that a plat filed with the appropriate officials of the planning commission be placed on the agenda of the planning commission within 30 days of the filing or the next regularly scheduled planning commission meeting after the 30-day period. The applicant may waive this requirement.

2. Municipal planning commissions serving as regional planning commissions;
3. Community planning commissions;
4. Municipal planning commissions;

County or municipal building or codes inspector must inspect the security gate or barrier. Gates and barriers must be equipped with a radio-operated receiver/controller capable of receiving signals from police, fire, utility, and emergency medical services radio transceivers serving the facility.

A municipality’s governing body may designate the planning commission as the design review commission. However, if the municipality creates a separate design review commission, the mayor must appoint the members, who must be residents of the municipality. Affected property owners may appeal decisions to the planning commission or, if there is no planning commission or if the municipality has designated the planning commission as the design review commission, to the municipality’s governing body.

Effective May 28, 2008.

Public Chapter No. 1150 (HB2760) Plans to identify areas with inadequate services: Amends T.C.A. Title 13 relative to public planning. Expands the contents of a regional plan to include the planning commission’s recommendations for “the identification of areas where there are inadequate or nonexistent publicly or privately owned and maintained services and facilities when the planning commission has determined such services are necessary in order for development to occur.” Applicable to all planning commissions, including municipal planning commissions, regional planning commissions, and municipal planning commissions serving as regional planning commissions.

Requires, prior to the adoption, amendment, or addition to a general plan or any part, a public hearing, preceded by a 30-day notice published in a newspaper of general circulation in the county affected.

Once a planning commission adopts a general plan, it may include, in the transmittal of certification to the local governing body, a resolution requesting the local governing body’s consideration and adoption of the submitted plan. The governing body may adopt by ordinance the general plan or their part. Prior to their adoption, the local governing body must hold a public hearing preceded by a 30-day notice published in a newspaper of general circulation in the affected county. Land use decisions thereafter must be consistent with the general plan after the governing body adopts the plan.
If the planning commission initiates and votes to adopt an amendment to the general plan, the local governing body must vote in the majority to make the amendment operative. However, in Cannon, Clay, DeKalb, Macon, Smith, Trousdale, and Wilson counties, if the planning commission initiates and votes to adopt an amendment to the general plan, the amendment is operative without any action of the local governing body.

A general plan may be amended upon the initiative of the local governing body; however, such initiative must first be forwarded to the planning commission for review and vote. A planning commission then has 61 days to transmit its recommendations to the local governing body. The local governing body may then vote, by majority approval, to make the amendment operative. However, in Cannon, Clay, DeKalb, Macon, Smith, Trousdale, and Wilson counties, if the planning commission votes to approve the amendment, it becomes operative without action of the local governing body. Requires that any member of the Signal Mountain planning commission be appointed by a majority vote of the legislative body of the municipality, rather than by the mayor.

Requires records custodians to, within seven days of a records request, produce the record; deny the record in writing, giving the basis for denial; or provide an estimated time frame for production. Failure to do so constitutes a denial of request and gives the requestor a right to bring an action.

Charges the Office of Open Records Counsel with creating a schedule of reasonable charges for open records requests. Until the schedule is produced, governmental entities may charge a requestor the hourly wage of the employee producing records requests where production takes more than five hours. No labor costs will be assessed for the first five hours.

Clarifies that governmental entities do not have to create a record that does not exist. However, redaction of information from a record or electronic database does not constitute a new record. Clarifies that a governmental entity may not avoid its disclosure obligations by contractually delegating its responsibility to a private entity.

A records custodian may require a request for copies of public records to be in writing or on a form developed by the Office of Open Records Counsel. Custodian may also require any citizen making a request to present photo identification.

Specifies that actions brought under this section may be initiated in circuit court as well as chancery court. In actions brought under this section, the court may consider guidance provided by the Office of Open Records Counsel in determining the willfulness of denial.
