The faculty and staff of the College of Law take great pride in presenting these Lawyers of the Future. As you will discern from their listed achievements and interests, they are well qualified for the practice of law and for careers in business, government, industry, education, and public interest as well. Although this is my first year as Dean of the College of Law, I can speak with conviction about the quality of the students and their instruction. Two of the main attractions of the University of Tennessee for me were the superb student body and outstanding teaching faculty here.

Please contact Joann Gillespie, Director of Career Services, for more information about any of these students or about our placement process. Should you have questions about other matters concerning the College, I would be pleased to speak with you. We welcome the opportunity to serve you.

CAREER SERVICES

Career Services provides a diversity of resources to aid employers in successfully meeting their recruiting needs. Temporary, summer and year-round clerks, as well as recent graduates and experienced attorneys, may be located through the services described below. Participating employers are requested to provide information about their organization and hiring practices for the Career Services resource files.

On-Campus Interviewing

Reservations for Fall or Spring On-Campus Interview dates, which are accepted throughout the year, can be made by phone or letter and will be confirmed in writing. Individual interview rooms and near-by parking are available at no cost. One to two weeks prior to the date selected, resumes of interested students are forwarded to the employer for pre-screening. After the employer informs Career Services by phone which students have been selected for interviews, the on-campus schedule is arranged. A parking permit and the completed schedule are issued to the interviewer upon arrival at Career Services.

Employers Unable to Visit Campus

Employers who are unable to interview on campus may choose to have a notice listing their vacant position placed on the Career Services job board for review by students and/or alumni(ae). Listings include full-time, part-time, summer and temporary positions. Notices remain posted until the employer notifies Career Services that the position has been filled.

Resumes Forwarded Service - Upon request, Career Services collects and forwards all resumes submitted in response to a job notice. Resumes and any other requested material are collectively forwarded on a specified date or at weekly intervals. Employers may respond to individual students directly or through Career Services office.

Direct Contact Service - If the employer prefers, applicants are instructed to respond to the position notice by submitting their resumes (and any other requested material) directly to the employer.

Experienced Attorney/Alumni Placement

Employers who wish to hire an experienced attorney may have a notice posted on the job board and published at no charge in the Alumni Employment Opportunities newsletter which is published monthly. Employers receive the edition in which their vacant listing is published. Alumni(ae) actively seeking employment through registration with Career Services are notified individually regarding vacancies in their areas of geographic interest and practice specialty.

Student Temporary Assignment Team

To provide attorneys a reliable source of temporary clerking assistance, Career Services maintains an up-to-date register of students available for short term assignments. Referred to as "Stat" (The Student Temporary Assignment Team), the register features first, second and third-year students, with varied academic and employment experience.

Registered students are referred to employers on the basis of availability, familiarity with the subject matter and, in the case of writing assignments, prior experience. Employers sometimes request the same person for additional work throughout the school year.

Recent STAT assignments have included title searches, photocopying, various types of research, the organization of form files, updating firm libraries and all phases of legal writing from research summaries to briefs and opinions. While assignments may last several weeks, employers needing projects completed within a few days, or even a few hours, can usually be accommodated. Most projects can be assigned the same day the request is made.

Southeastern Law Placement Consortium

The University of Tennessee College of Law, in conjunction with ten other southeastern law schools, sponsors an annual legal recruiting conference in Atlanta attended by nearly 150 employers from around the nation. Details regarding the Twelfth Annual Conference (October 8-10, 1987) are available upon request.
Mid-South Law Recruiting Conference

On February 27, 1988, a spring recruiting conference, sponsored for the first time in Nashville last year by the University of Tennessee College of Law, the Cecil C. Humphreys School of Law of Memphis State, and Cumberland School of Law of Samford University, will be repeated.

At the first conference, 20 employers interviewed 87 students from the three schools. Additional schools planning to participate in 1988 include: the University of Alabama School of Law, Georgia State University School of Law, Mercer University School of Law and the University of Kentucky School of Law.

While the Mid-South Consortium Spring Conference is designed for small-to-medium sized law firms, corporations, government agencies and public interest groups unable to make hiring decisions earlier in the year, larger employers may find it ideal for rounding out their fall recruiting.

First, second, third-year students and judicial clerks may be interviewed for summer clerkships and permanent positions. Employers will be allowed to pre-screen resumes and select the candidates they wish to see in a schedule with 20 interview slots lasting 20 minutes each.

The employer registration deadline is January 31, 1988. For further information, employers should contact Career Services or the placement director at any one of the participating schools.

We look forward to working with you in filling your recruiting needs through any one, or all, of our services. We welcome your suggestions as to how we may better serve you.

PROGRAMS & ORGANIZATIONS

Legal Clinic
The University of Tennessee Legal Clinic, established in 1947, has become one of the outstanding legal clinics in the country. Through the process of providing legal assistance to indigent persons, the Clinic primarily serves as a teaching device to correlate theory and practice through personal contact with clients and their problems. The students gain valuable experience in both the technique of practice and their ethical responsibilities.

Public Law Institute
Through the activities of the Public Law Institute, the University of Tennessee College of Law has become a pioneer in the implementation of law-related education in Tennessee. PLI conducts research, publishes comprehensive books on Tennessee Law, and sponsors a student-edited periodical, the Tennessee Judicial Newsletter. The Institute’s purpose is to create opportunities for our faculty and students to engage in public service activities which foster a positive attitude among the public towards our legal system.

The Law Library
The University of Tennessee Law Library contains the official court reports, session laws, and codes of all states and of the federal system. It also features the complete National Reporter System which covers all state and federal courts, the Annotated Reports, standard sets of miscellaneous reports, and the reports of the Canadian cases and of English cases from the Yearbook to date. In total, there are more than 154,000 catalogued volumes and approximately 79,000 microfilm equivalent volumes. The Law Library subscribes to the WESTLAW and LEXIS legal data retrieval systems and serves as a depository for federal documents.

Tennessee Law Review
The Tennessee Law Review offers an excellent opportunity to those students with the requisite legal aptitude and industry to do legal research and writing of a scholarly and practical nature. This quarterly periodical features notes and comments on important legal decisions and articles focusing on current developments in the law.

Moot Court and Trial Advocacy
UT Moot Court Teams consistently have excelled in appellate and trial competitions at both the regional and national levels. In 1986-87, the Moot Court program submitted six teams - five of them took top honors. These teams finished second, third, sixth and eighth nationally in their respective competitions. One team finished third in the region. The Moot Court program develops high quality lawyering skills through faculty guidance and first-hand experience in a simulated courtroom situation.

Placement in high-pressure situations which require quick thinking and extensive knowledge of the applicable legal concepts helps better prepare the participants for the practice of law.

The Order of the Coif
The Order of the Coif is a national law school honor society, election to which depends upon exceptional scholastic attainment. Only those students who are among the first tenth of their class at the time of their graduation are eligible. Election is made by the law faculty.

Student Bar Association
The UT Student Bar Association acts as representative voice of the students of the College of Law. All students may join the SBA and participate in its activities. In addition to sponsoring various social functions, the SBA supervises the locker rental program, operates the SBA Bookmobile, and administers the Alan Novak Memorial Emergency Loan Fund.

Black Law Student Association
The Black Law Student Association at the University of Tennessee is an affiliate of the National Black Law Student Association. Devoted to the articulation and promotion of the needs and goals of black law students, BLSA strives to increase awareness of its concerns and the commitment of the legal profession to the black community.
The American Bar Association and the Association of Trial Lawyers of America

Both the American Bar Association's Law School Division and the student chapter of the Association of Trial Lawyers of America provide the law school community with opportunities to learn more about the legal profession and the practice of law through the educational programs.
