The Commission for Women recognized its first Notable UT Woman in 1995 after a suggestion from then University Historian, Dr. Milton Klein, recommending that outstanding women connected with the University be honored on an annual basis.

The award recognizes women from three rotating categories: administrator, alumnae or students, and faculty or staff. The honoree is selected by the Commission members in the Spring from a slate prepared by the Notable UT Women Committee. A plaque in the Brown Lounge of the University Center also honors award recipients.
