The results from the 2014 Employee Engagement Survey are in, and we are looking forward to sharing an overview with the campus community.

Please make plans to attend an open forum at 9:30 a.m. on Tuesday, March 24, in the Shiloh Room of the University Center. Representatives from Modern Think, our partner, will provide an overview. Light refreshments will be served.

Sixty-two percent of our eligible faculty and staff shared their views last fall about their job, their work environment, and our overall work culture. The results are critical in helping us make informed decisions about the things that matter most to our employees.

Results from previous surveys have helped us take steps to improve the performance management process, compensation, and engagement between employees and campus leadership. I recently appointed a Work Culture Improvement Team composed of faculty and staff members to help guide our next steps based on the new survey data. This team will make suggestions to me about what we can do to further improve employee satisfaction.

The one-hour forum also will include a brief update from a member of the system-wide Compensation Advisory Board. CAB members are seeking feedback about the work they've been doing since 2010 and would like to answer questions from attendees.

I look forward to seeing you on March 24.

Sincerely,

Jimmy G. Cheek
Chancellor
