Dear Municipal Official:

We are pleased to provide you with the Revenue Manual for Tennessee Cities. This publication is a guide to the revenue sources most commonly collected by cities in Tennessee and can be used as a tool in revenue projection, collection and accounting. The manual is formatted so that it can be customized for your particular city by adding information on your city's rates and revenue collection history. Used along with the MTAS Budget Manual, the Revenue Manual can provide much useful information needed for budget preparation and management.

We are indebted to the City of Oak Ridge for allowing us to draw heavily on its manual in preparing this publication, and to Jim Finane for his careful work in preparing it.

If you have questions regarding this manual or any aspect of revenue collection or management, please contact an MTAS Management or Finance Consultant. As always, your input and suggestions are valued.

Sincerely,

C. L. Overman
Executive Director

CLO:aa1
I. INTRODUCTION

One of the most essential tasks that a City Recorder, Finance Officer, or City Manager performs each year is the projection of the revenues upon which next year's budget is built, and the subsequent work required to insure that those revenues are collected and accounted for properly. Estimating and tracking revenue collection is frequently a difficult job, and can be nearly impossible without a good working knowledge of all the revenue sources available to and received by a city. The purpose of this manual is to provide a description of the revenues most commonly collected by municipalities in Tennessee, to be used as a tool in revenue collection and accounting. The manual can also be used as a guide for cities in preparing their own customized revenue manual.

II. ORGANIZATION

This manual is a listing of individual revenue sources, arranged in numeric order using the chart of accounts recommended by the State Comptroller of the Treasury for use by Tennessee municipalities. While not all municipalities use this chart of accounts, it is the system which is used by the largest number of cities and by the Local Government Data Processing Corporation.

Not all revenue accounts in the chart of accounts are included in the manual. Items such as charges for services, miscellaneous permits and licenses, special assessments, contributions and grants from state or federal agencies are not included because the revenues vary so widely from city to city that a general description would provide little or no information to a specific city. It is sufficient to note that such revenues are authorized by a general or specific grant of powers to municipalities in the Tennessee Code Annotated, and that you, the local official, are the person most familiar with those revenues in your municipality.

Similarly, revenue accounts for special funds such as water, sewer, gas, electric, economic development, etc., are not included in this manual. Many municipalities do not operate utilities, or other limited-purpose funds, and for those that do, a general description of "sewer revenues", for example, would provide little information. The revenues contained in this manual are those which are usually deposited in the General, State Street Aid, and Revenue Sharing Funds.

Throughout the revenue manual, you will find a number of information items left blank where there is variability among municipalities in rates, collection procedures, etc. These blanks can be used to "customize" the manual for your municipality. In particular, spaces are provided at the bottom of each page to allow you to accumulate a collection history for each revenue item, information which is particularly useful in projecting revenues.
III. ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Much of the original work on this manual was accomplished by the author while serving as Budget Officer for the City of Oak Ridge. As such, the City of Oak Ridge has made a substantial contribution to this publication which is greatly appreciated by MTAS and hereby acknowledged.

IV. CATEGORY DESCRIPTIONS

Following are descriptions of the types of information contained in each category:

ACCOUNT #: The account number for this revenue found in the Uniform Accounting manual for Tennessee Municipalities, issued by the State Comptroller of the Treasury.
