The Department of Philosophy offers graduate study leading to the Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy. The MA program includes thesis and non-thesis options and offers a concentration in religious studies. Detailed information may be obtained from the Director of Graduate Studies in Philosophy. Details concerning the religious studies concentration may be obtained from the Director of Graduate Studies in the Department of Religious Studies.

REVISE PHILOSOPHY MAJOR (MA) – THESIS OPTION

Formerly: The course requirements for an MA with thesis are 30 hours, including 6 hours in Philosophy 500. Of non-thesis hours, at least two-thirds must be in courses at or above the 500 level. No philosophy course numbered under 400 may be taken for graduate credit. There are no particular courses that MA students are required to take. The nature of the student’s coursework should be determined in consultation with the student’s faculty committee.

REVISE PHILOSOPHY MAJOR (PHD)
On page 89 of the 2005-2006 Graduate Catalog, revise the first paragraph and first two sentences of the second paragraph to Students will ordinarily hold an MA with a major in philosophy or an equivalent degree when entering the PhD program. However, highly qualified applicants without an advanced degree may be admitted directly to the PhD rather than MA program if that is their preference. For students taking an MA in our department, 24 hours of additional coursework beyond those applied to the MA degree are required. For students admitted directly into the program without an advanced degree, 48 hours of coursework are required. For those admitted with advanced degrees in other fields, the number of hours required will be determined by the Graduate Committee. (In all cases, this does not include credit hours for work on the dissertation – Philosophy 600 – and the student’s dissertation committee may require additional coursework at its discretion.) See the Philosophy Department Graduate Student Handbook for more specific requirements.

Students must normally demonstrate a reading knowledge of one living foreign language in which there exists a significant body of philosophical literature. (In special circumstances relating to the area of dissertation research, the Graduate Committee may approve a language not satisfying these conditions, or the requirement of a foreign language may be waived in favor of other appropriate research skills, if approved by the Graduate Committee upon recommendation by the Director of Graduate Studies.)

Formerly: Students must hold an MA with a major in philosophy or an equivalent degree when entering the PhD program. Thirty-three hours of coursework beyond the MA are required, of which six hours will be in courses numbered above 600. See the Philosophy Department Graduate Student Handbook for specific course requirements.

Students must demonstrate a reading knowledge of one foreign language, normally a living language in which there exists a significant body of philosophical literature.
