CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS

IJNS 3rd Issue of 2017

MISSION

The mission of the International Journal of Nuclear Security is to share and promote research and best practices in all areas of nuclear security. It provides an open-access, multi-disciplinary forum for scholarship and discussion. The journal encourages diversity in theoretical foundations, research methods, and approaches, asking contributors to analyze and include implications for policy and practice.

IJNS was launched in 2015 to fill the need for an open, international, scholarly discussion about nuclear security issues and insights among scholars, students, practitioners, and experts from academia, government, industry, and the private sector—as well as from the intelligence, military, and law enforcement communities.

TOPICS

IJNS invites submissions that focus on global education and training in nuclear security. Topics of interest include:

- Curriculum development programs in nuclear security at academic institutions
- Continuing education programs, such as professional development courses and training, at academic or other institutions
- Preventing and/or delimiting insider and outsider threats
- Reports and scholarly investigations on pedagogical or training initiatives for nuclear security, including alternative/complementary-teaching methods (tabletop exercises, case studies, etc.)
- Issues/barriers/problems (and proposed solutions) in international education or training for nuclear security
- Discussion of grant development and funding scenarios related to education or training in nuclear security

For this issue, IJNS also invites authors to submit articles on other subjects directly related to national and international nuclear security education or training.

SUBMISSIONS

Please see the IJNS website for general submission rules:

<http://trace.tennessee.edu/ijns/policies.html#whatcansubmit>.

In addition, please follow the style guide for submissions on the IJNS website:

<http://trace.tennessee.edu/ijns/styleguide.html>.

To submit an article, authors need to create an account on the IJNS website: <http://trace.tennessee.edu/ijns>. After creating an account, authors should navigate to the “Submit Article” tab on the left side of the screen (eighth tab down or first blue tab). CONTACT: ijns@tennessee.edu
