2011 LGBT Advocate Award

Jenny Moshak

Jenny Moshak serves as chair of the Alumni Development Committee of the LGBT commission. This fall, under Moshak's leadership, the committee hosted the first gathering of LGBT alumni. More than 70 alumni, staff, and students came to the campus OUTreach Center to meet and greet. Alumni also completed information cards to begin an LGBT alumni contact list for future events and issues.

She has been instrumental in one of the commission's most important projects: gathering data and writing reports to compare UT's work to promote LGBT equality and visibility with the work being done by our peers. These reports are important to improving the treatment of LGBT faculty, students, and staff. Her work on these reports is time-intensive and detailed, yet she contributes her time each year. Moshak is a compelling advocate for change on our campus.

The LGBT Advocate Award is awarded to faculty, staff, or students who demonstrate leadership, integrity, and outstanding contributions to advancing lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender issues on campus.
